- The literature for this class, presentations and zoom classes were of high quality learning. Thank you so much for being so organized and having so much material ready for us to learn better. Thank you. - I don't really have any complaints. The course was essentially an opportunity to learn about new ideas and authors, and then have an opportunity every week to create a piece of writing that expanded my own thought while cementing the main ideas of the readings into my mind. Sometimes I found Blackboard a little disorganized, but John Corrigan was always able to clarify any assignments very quickly.
