We are here because _____ has blocked the path to moral progress. They have decided to be an obstacle to justice. They have thrown their support with those who abuse animals for profit, who enslave and kill for culinary pleasure. And for this they should be ashamed of themselves.
Shame shame shame on you (shame on you for what you do)

I confess that the nature of your evil confounds me. Is it that you believe yourselves better than, the pinnacle of creation, something like Gods roaming the earth entitled to the abuse of its creatures? But do you not shit like the rest of them, blow snot through your nose? Do we not bleed the same blood, suffer the same fate? Are not the worms that will infest and eat your body the very same worms that will infest and eat theirs? Are you not animal too?
Animals lives are their own (leave the ducks the fuck alone)

Do you think that you stand on principle? That you sacrifice the peace of mind of your customers for a higher good? That your community will come to support you? Do you really think that you can continue to fund the force-feeding of ducks unopposed?
For their freedom and their lives (we will never compromise)

The principle you stand on is that of profit. Profit over the lives of other animals. Profit over your customers. Profit over your community. Others bleed because of your greed.
_____ has blood on its hands

Raise your fist and raise your voice (innocent animals have no choice)

Stop the torture stop the pain (_____ is to blame)

Force feeding is no kindness (It's not food, it's violence)

We will not back down! (Until you stop the killing)

Foie Gras we won't allow (take it off your menu now)

_____ WTF (only monsters force feed ducks)
